

Sussex
Wildlife Trust

WILD BEES

A wildlife learning day in the South Downs tutored by leading entomologist Mike Edwards:

Identification, Natural History and Conservation of Bumblebees & Other Bees (16/06/18)

Saturday, 16th June 2018 10:00 AM - 4:00 PM

You could find 14 of England's 21 species of Bumblebees in the Sompting Downs.
And beyond bumblebees, there are over 200 bee species in Britain.

On this course you can learn about the main groups of bees and how to recognize them, as well as about some distinctive individual species. You will also learn about what different species need in their habitat niches, and how their needs can be met within an actively farmed landscape alongside providing food for humans.

Complete beginners are welcome too! Booking essential: book on www.sussexwildlifetrust.org.uk

Location: The Downs Barn, Lambleys Lane, Sompting, West Sussex, BN14 9JX

Sussex Wildlife Trust Members £32, Non members £45 (at only £36 a year it pays to join)

